

A REAL WASH DAY HELP.

Are You connected up with The Town Water Service?

If so, we can sell you a Washing Machine that is run by water power, and is guaranteed to work on 25 lbs. pressure. The minimum pressure in Red Deer is 30 lbs., so there is plenty of margin here.

All you require to do is to attach the hose that comes with the Washer to the kitchen tap, turn on the water, and the machine works for you until you turn the tap off. Its back never gets tired.

Better drop in at our store and see this machine. We are sure it will appeal to you.

Exciting Baseball Games

ALIX WINS THE BREWERY CUP.

Last week was a big week for the few enthusiastic baseball fans in Red Deer, no less than three first class games being played on the local diamond. The Brewery Cup was the big noise on Thursday, Alix and Red Deer being drawn for the first game in the series. For the first four innings the game was class, no one on either side reaching first except Mann, who went down on a slow throw by Greene, and incidentally put Slinger, the Alix first base-man out of business on account of the long man trying to take up too much of the base line. It was in the unlucky fifth that things happened. Dretchko, who is now pitching in the finale of the Western Canada League for Calgary, came up to bat first, and slammed a bad one down to Martin and reached first; Hall went out, Gads to Martin; Smith drew a pass; Peterson went down on Washburn's error, filling the bases. Pitman got a walk, which forced Dretchko home; McGuire hit to Wagner, who failed to connect, scoring Smith and Peterson; Simpson hit to Bonnick, retiring himself and Pitman at second. In the 6th inning Dretchko again came to bat with two out, and walked to first; Hall, Smith and Peterson hit safe, Dretchko and Hall scoring. Wagner replaced Washburn in the seventh and there was no further scoring. Red Deer was unable to solve Hall's delivery, although several times men were on bases with no one out. The score was as follows:

Alix	000	032	000—5 5 1
Red Deer	000	000	000—0 2 5

Earned runs—Alix 2. Bases on balls—off Hall 1, off Washburn 3. Hit by pitcher—Simpson. Struck out—by Hall 6, by Washburn 3. Left on bases—Alix 5, Red Deer 3. Double play—Bonnick to Edgington. Umpire McDermott.

In the evening Hardisty and Alix played off for the cup, Alix getting the decision 5-4. Mr. Dretchko, the Edmonton wonder, started in the box for Alix, but after four runs were scored on him in the second inning on a two-bagger, two hits, a three-bagger and a sacrifice, he was relegated to first, and the old ball thrower took the slab. After that there was nothing doing for Hardisty. Hardisty has protested this game on account of a couple of decisions on third base, and from the spectators standpoint it certainly looked as if Umpire McDermott was badly in error. The box score was as follows:

Hardisty	040	000	000—4 8 1
Alix	010	010	210—5 7 3

Batteries—Barnstead and Hoffman; Dretchko, Hall and Smith. Earned runs—Hardisty 4; Alix 1. Three-base hit—Juglum. Two-base hit—Barnstead, McGuire. Bases on balls—off Barnstead 2, off Hall 1. Hit by pitcher—Axe. Struck out—by Barnstead 5, by Hall 4. Left on bases—Hardisty 5, Alix 5.

On Friday evening Red Deer got their own back to a certain extent, and administered a dose of whitewash to Hardisty. 7-0 was the score. The most sensational stunt was Wagner's pitching and Turner's thieving proclivities. Wagner received poor support, but pitched himself out of many critical places.

The score:

Hardisty	000	000	000—0 2 2
Red Deer	000	010	024—7 7 8

Earned runs—Red Deer 1. Bases on balls—off Irish 4, off Wagner 2. Hit by pitcher—Mann. Struck out—by Irish 4, by Wagner 10. Left on bases—Hardisty 11, Red Deer 10. Double plays—Edgington unassisted. Umpire—Hanna.

NOTES
Wagner struck Barnstead, the ex-Western Canada League, out three times, and Axe, the funny man, four times.

Has anybody here seen Kelly? Who were the 'sports' outside the fence who refused to buy a tag to help the team along? There were two or three inside too, and then some.

Who were the ladies at the Hardisty-Red Deer game who were making unladylike remarks to the ladies from Hardisty? This matter was strongly commented upon and necessitated an apology from the executive of the baseball club.

Why didn't the Red Deer team turn out on time for the Hardisty game?

Why didn't the citizens of Red Deer save the Red Deer club from a $15 deficit on the Hardisty game?

The visiting teams were entertained to a smother in the Alexandra hall on Thursday evening, when speeches were made by various celebrities of the baseball world, and the Brewery Cup handed over to the Alix club by President James Mann.

Piano solos by Messrs. McLennan and Mollveen and a song by R. Gee enlivened the programme.

WEDDING BELLS.

MENZIES—LARKE.

An event of more than passing interest took place on Wednesday last, when J. H. Menzies, managing director of the Great West Lumber Company, and manager of the Northern Crown Bank, was married to Miss Frances Larke, of Colborne, Ont. The Colborne Express, speaking of the wedding says:

On Wednesday, August 24th, 1910, a very pretty wedding took place in the Methodist Church, Colborne, when Frances, young daughter of Charles Larke, Esq., of the Standard Bank, was married to Mr. John H. Menzies, of Red Deer, Alberta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. E. Thornton. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome gown of ivory satin, with yoke of Limerick lace and trimmings of seed-pearls, the skirt and overskirt on train and caught with pearl ornaments. Her veil, worn over the face, was of sheerest tulle, fastened with a tiny wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily-of-the-valley. The groom wore a tuxedo with a diamond and sapphire ring. The bridesmaids, Miss Blanche Larke, and Miss Isabel Menzies, of Winnipeg, were dressed alike, in pale yellow silk with satin trimmings and large black hats. Each carried yellow chrysanthemums and wore pearl and amethyst pendants given by the bridegroom. Mr. L. L. Anties, of Toronto, was the best man, and the ushers Mr. W. G. Neil and Mr. C. R. W. Proctor, each received whole pearl scarf pins. After the ceremony, the bridal party and guests drove to Lynhurst, the home of the bride, where a reception was held. Mrs. Larke, mother of the bride, wore a becoming gown of silver grey crepe-de-chene with black hat. Mr. and Mrs. Menzies left on the evening train for a trip to Quebec, before leaving for their home in the west, the bride travelling in a tailored suit of blue with smart blue hat with tan wings.

The bride made many friends in Red Deer last year when the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Payne, and she will be warmly welcomed on her return to make our town her permanent residence. Among other outside guests at the wedding was Mrs. McKellar, mother of Mrs. R. R. Randall of Red Deer.

Calgary Callies Coming.

A great treat in store for all football enthusiasts on Labor Day, Sept. 5th, when the famous Caledonians of Calgary, champions of the Dominion, visit Red Deer, and play the United in the semi-final for the Bennett Shield, championship of the Provincial Championship. The game will take place on the school grounds, and the time of kick-off will be shown on the large bills and on the dodgers. The executive promises to place on the field the strongest eleven who ever donned colors for Red Deer, and they think the champions will have to extend themselves to win. The winners play Lloydminster in the final. A good crowd should turn out to witness this game.

Ivan Greene has opened a repair shop for autos in the building opposite Hamilton's bakery, and has engaged W. H. Patchett as assistant. Mr. Patchett has a splendid knowledge of machines, obtained in the Old Country, and has successfully repaired nearly every machine in the vicinity. Mr. Greene will probably enlarge his business next year by opening a garage in the old Methodist church building.

Municipal Government by Commission

The following leading article appeared in the Financial Post of Canada, printed at Toronto, on August 27th. Dealing as it does with a subject of such vital interest to the people of Red Deer we reproduce it in full:

"The Financial Post will publish next week an account of the workings of the commission system of municipal administration in Red Deer, Alberta. One of the most striking of recent phenomena, as is often pointed out, is the growth of urban communities. In Canada the rural sections have yet have control in the various legislatures, but in the United States the cityward movement has been so remarkable that it is believed the present census will show the cities to be really in control in most of the legislative bodies constituted on a relative population basis. With this trend in view the positive necessity of improved municipal government in Canada is axiomatic. It is almost equally self-evident that councils acting through committees are not proper administrative bodies.

"The very fact of their periodic election which tends to make them properly representative legislative bodies unfit them for executive functions, for the reason that there can be in their case little perspective or continuity of policy. On the other hand a Civic Commission because of its experience of municipal affairs and because of its consequently greater ability to take a long-forward view should have some legislative initiative, even if only in some such way as has the president of the United States, through his messages to congress and otherwise. The centralizing Board of Control plan is a vast improvement on former systems, but it is weak in most cases because of its method of selection, which does not ensure good men, and because of its short tenure of office. Commission government, on the other hand, runs the risk of being inefficient on account of the well-known unwillingness to pay in public offices salaries large enough to attract men capable of standing up under the centralization and responsibility which commission government predicates. Furthermore, the commission does some periodic reconsideration, at say, five or eight year intervals, of the personnel of the commission, with a view to preventing oligarchical tendencies and to keeping the commission adequately in touch with public opinion. In the meantime the popularity of the commission system is increasing rapidly on this continent. Even that pseudo-socialist, the Toronto World, lately, evidently because it recognizes that the system tends to bring the greater economy and efficiency which ordinarily inhere in private administration."

The Red Deer Memorial Hospital.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Red Deer Memorial Hospital, held last Wednesday evening, 24th inst., the finances were discussed. Among those present, besides President F. H. Tallman, were directors McKee, Welliver, Carswell, T.A. Gaetz, Galbraith, Carscallen and secretary Allen.

This portion of the province, at least, seems to be so healthy that our institution's funds are suffering considerably. We would like to see them suffer to the point of not needing a hospital—but no such luck. We must keep the hospital going, and at practically the same cost, whether it be full up with patients or nearly empty. It is at such times as these that the hospital reaps the benefit of the insurance scheme adopted by the Great West Lumber Co., and at one time, by the C.F.R., whereby employees, by the payment of a small sum monthly, could rely upon being taken care of in times of illness for the whole duration of that illness; and in this connection we might say the public, both individually and collectively, have certain obligation to public institutions of this kind, and should remember that the onus of thinking of, and providing for, its welfare should not rest entirely upon a few.

Mrs. Hannah W. Reed has set a very good and acceptable example, in that she is donating $5 a month to the hospital for the benefit of the indigent sick. There is ample scope in this direction for the generous and philanthropic, and we are sure that whatever is donated to our hospital is always accounted for to the uttermost farthing.

EDITORIAL NOTES
The New York Museum of Natural History has secured a 55-ton jaw bone of a whale. The bone is to be called "The Roosevelt."
A New York woman says she would rather carry a spear than nurse a baby. No sensible man would ever ask such a woman to nurse a baby.
Jim Corbett says he will never rest until he finds a man who can whip Johnson. Let him go on a still hunt, then. That would please the public better than anything else.

How perfectly natural it seems. Ethel Lenore's relatives are positive Dr. Crippen hypnotized her. The poor little dimpled darling. Hell is full of such females.—Oil City Blitzard.

Nearly everybody is taking a holiday this month except the politicians, and when you come to think of it, they are doing pretty well. A couple of the ministers are over in London, another goes to South Africa, and the balance, able to travel, have visited the west. The only difference between politicians and others taking a holiday, is that in most instances the politician enjoys his holidays at the country's expense.

If information which drifts over from Paris is true, rats are being dispensed with there in fashionable hair dressing. This news should relieve a rather trying situation in Pittsburg, where 60 waitresses in a restaurant are threatening to strike because the proprietor insists that they shall discontinue the use of rats in their hair. Their chief complaint is that they have bought summer hats to fit the rats and would have to buy new hats if they let the rats go. The girls probably haven't heard the news from Paris, but just as soon as they find out about it they will get into fashion. They always do.—Meadville Tribune.

WORKING AWAY QUIETLY
Mr. R. L. Borden is Steadily Gaining Friends in Out of the Way Constituencies.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—While the newspapers are making a great deal of noise over the doings of Sir Wilfrid and his party in the west, Mr. R. L. Borden, the opposition leader, is not letting the grass grow under his feet. This is a way Mr. Borden has. While others are shouting he is working. He has had a month's successful tour of Ontario; and he has just finished a careful campaign of his native province of Nova Scotia, and incidentally paid a good deal of attention to his own particular constituency of Halifax. In the beginning of September he will be back in Ontario and do some work in the Ottawa valley, where there are a few seats which should provide very little difficulty in winning. One of these seats in particular is South Renfrew, where T. A. Low is the sitting member. Mr. Low succeeded in getting the nomination from Aaron Wright before the last general election, but whatever may be the comparative merits of the two men on the stump, there is no comparison between them in the House. It is in the chamber that men find their level. You may build a few of the electorate for a while, but you can't bluff the members. Mr. Low is a burst bubble. He is hopelessly outclassed among power men. He has spoken in the House once or twice during the two years he has been a member, but he spoke to empty seats, and those who remained to form a quorum spoke quickly. It was the reverse when Mr. Wright addressed the House. He was always sure of a good audience, and invariably the Premier was present. It is an open secret that was regretted very much Mr. Wright's departure from public life. It has always to be remembered that Mr. Borden, by his own methods of avoiding the "hurrah" and getting in touch with the people personally, has fought his way to the winning stretch. The capture of a few hundred votes more will put him in power. As he has spoken in the House Mr. Borden so close that the Premier did not get one half of the total vote polled. A large number of Liberal seats were held by bare majorities, one seat being won by only one.

J. H. Robinson, of Evarts, has arrived home after a two months' stay in Ontario. Mrs. Robinson will return also in a couple of weeks after visiting relatives at Beaver Creek, Saskatoon's summer resort.
Togo Atlee is pretty well recovered from the effects of blood poisoning, but the doctor will not allow him to move about until the leg heals completely, otherwise he might have a running sore for life.

Now that the game season is on those desiring a nice piece of work in stuffed animals, birds, chickens, grouse, etc., would do well to call on the old reliable and well known taxidermist, John Grant, Ross Avenue, who will always give you good work for the least money.

There are more prairie chicken in the Red Deer district than for years. This is thought to be caused by the coyote bounty, as no doubt these animals destroy a great many eggs and young birds. The government should keep up the bounty on coyotes.

The Wright Agency report the sale by them to Mr. Todd, of Calgary, of lots 14 and 15, Block 22, with residence, for $1,000.00. Wright will shortly appear a few days at the coast, and will, on his return, open a real estate and commission agency on Mann Street, near the Imperial Bank.

The biggest buffalo ever known was shot near Lake Athabasca, Alberta, on July 23rd. It weighed 2400. The skin is large enough to carpet a small room. The animal will be stuffed and mounted in the Parliament building at Edmonton. The skin is valued at $2000.

Gordon Sproule, who has been an clerk at Parker's bookstore for the past year and a half, has taken a position with the McDiarmid Drug Co., Calgary, and left a few days ago for his new field of labor. Gordon has many friends in Red Deer who regret his departure, and wish him success in his new position in Calgary.

Fear of Civil War
Checks Vatican
Would Otherwise Form an Alliance With Carlists.

Rome, Aug. 12.—Only the conviction that the Holy See the church would not benefit by civil war, prevents, it is said, an alliance between the Roman Catholics and Carlists of Spain for war upon the existing Government. The word received here from Clericals and the leaders among the pretender's following in Spain is that their organization is now in such form as to make certain the overthrow of the enemies of the church should resort to be had to arms.

Since the abandonment of the demonstration at San Sebastian planned for last Sunday, reports of what is declared to be the prevailing sentiment in the peninsula have been pouring in upon the Vatican. The Spanish cardinals and bishops, supported by Mgr. Vico, the Papal Nuncio at Madrid, report that in view of the organization of Catholics throughout the country, the divorce desired by Premier Canalejas between Church and State cannot possibly be brought to pass.

Frost & Wood No. 3 Binder
Has a Strong "Back Bone"

The Frost & Wood No. 3 Binder is built to stand more hard knocks than a binder is commonly supposed to encounter. Striking a bolder or bumping over rough ground does not affect this binder. That's because the binder's back bone consists of heavy pieces of steel firmly rivetted together and because the platform is connected to the main power frame by a double steel brace. It's the quality in material and workmanship that the makers put into the Frost & Wood No. 3 Binder that enables it to give three to five times as many years of service as ordinary binders.

We would like the privilege of showing you the construction of this binder. Then you can be your own judge as to its strength. We would also like to point out to you the Advantages of the Eccentric Sprocket Wheel, which is found on no other binder. This Eccentric Sprocket Wheel makes neater, more compact, easier-to-shock bundles and discharges them faster than ordinary binders. We also wish you to see the No. 3 Knotter, which never hesitates an instant, no matter how hard and fast you ask it to work.

Drop in on us at your earliest convenience. We'll be pleased to see you any time. We believe we will make your visit interesting, too.

RED DEER LEADS

M. P. McCall, traveller for the Gaetz Manufacturing Company, after visiting practically every town in the west, comes back to Red Deer with the statement that outside of Calgary and Edmonton we are the busiest, most attractive, go-ahead centre in Alberta.

That Mr. McCall is quite sincere in his opinions, that he is capable of judging as an old business man, and that what he says is true, we must agree to admit unless we can show otherwise. He says there is more business being done here than anywhere on the line, that there is a more buoyant feeling among the people, and that the optimistic temperament of the citizens is going to make Red Deer one of the leading cities in Alberta.

All this is only what might be expected, and only what we have fought for all along.

The News has always contended nothing can keep Red Deer back except the people themselves. We have a few citizens who are always looking on the dark side and continually finding fault with any progressive movement.

Let all unite in boosting our town, in looking on the bright side, and helping on any object having for its aim our upbuilding, and we will soon have cause to congratulate ourselves on being not only the most beautiful residential town but the most progressive municipality in this great and growing west.

But above all, let your motto be "Boost for Red Deer."

Commenting upon the launching of the Lion, the London Free Press says this vessel is a modern warship. Great Britain does the sensible thing. "But how different is the case with Canada. The Government of this country has elected to put $80,000,000 in the next ten years in a few tin pots, such as would be swept from the face of the water at long range and before breakfast by modern vessels of war that do not measure up to the British Lion. While England continues to care for us, our hope rests in her policy of producing and maintaining ships of the first class. We lift from her shoulders none of the burden she carries when we build a navy that is not more than a mere playing."

The Boston Transcript proves that Mr. Roosevelt is descended from Robert Bruce, King of Scots who was also the ancestor of King George. The throne of England and the power behind the throne at Washington are thus related. It appears that the great-granddaughter of Robert Bruce, King of Scotland, married Lord Douglas, and that in the last century a member of the Douglas family married Dr. Irvine, whose son went to Savannah, Ga. His grand daughter married John Bullock, one of the leading men there, and her daughter was Mr. Roosevelt's mother. There ought certainly to be an entente cordiale between the two Royal families—that of America and that of Great Britain.

The Huntingdon Gleaner claims that Sir Wilfrid was untruthful to the people of the West when he said to them of the present tariff: "We do not tax for protection, but for revenue purposes." The word untruthful is not nice. We should prefer to say that he misrepresented or Laurierized, he de-magnified the Toronto Mail & Empire, all of which goes to show that the west is getting its full share of advertising no matter what happens.

Vice President Fairbanks is getting in right with the newspapers. He says on the subject of advertising: "The best advertiser and the best merchant are synonymous, and the poorest advertiser is usually the one who finds himself in a court of bankruptcy. Of course, all advertisers do not succeed, but I think it will be generally admitted that there are fewer failures among them than among those who do not possess the facility of bringing their business fairly and favorably before the public.

RED DEER AYRSHIRES AND HOLSTEINS AT EDMONTON FAIR

A. H. Trimble & Son and Michener Bros. Take Many Prizes.

At Edmonton Fair last week many prizes were taken by A. H. Trimble & Son, Michener Bros. and J. J. Richards with their splendid herds, but once more the Trimble herd fell down before the herd of J. M. Bruce, of Lashburn, Saskatchewan. The following prizes were taken by the Trimble Ayrshire herd: Second in bull two years old and under three; second in bull one year old and under two; first and third in bull calf six months old and under twelve; second bull calf under six months; second and third cow three years and over; second heifer two years and under three; third heifer one year and under two; second heifer calf six months and under twelve; first and third heifer calf under six months; second herd bull and three females.

J. J. Richards took first for bull calf under six months; first and third for heifer two years and under three; and third for heifer calf six months old and under twelve.

HOLSTEINS

Michener Bros. took the following prizes with their excellent herd:

Second for bull two years old; 2nd for bull calf under one year old; first for bull calf calved after Jan. 1, 1910; second and fourth for cow three years and over; first, second and third for heifer two years old; second and third for heifer one year old; second for heifer calf under one year; second for heifer calf, calved after Jan. 1, 1910; 2nd for herd bull and three females.

W. T. Shuttleworth, of Gaetz Valley, took first for heifer two years and under three, in the grade milking strain, and a number of prizes for sheep.

Number of Persons Who Have Perished in Forest Fires, 204

17 KILLED BY BACK FIRE

Spokane, Wash., August 26.—The following is a revised tabulation of the dead in the northern forest fires:

In and near Idaho, numbering 86.

Montana, deaths, including Bunion Mine, 13.

Newport, Wash., 3.

At Wallace, Idaho, 4.

Near Avery, Idaho, 47.

At Mullan, Idaho, 2.

At Spokane, 1.

On Big Creek, Idaho, 47.

This gives a total of 204 dead, but it is possible that some places may duplicate those listed as fire-fighters. But as many are still missing the total dead will probably total more than 200, when the record is complete.

The fires are not so violent, and it is believed the worst is over.

Sixty-five men arrived in Spokane to-day from Big Creek, and said that fifteen Austrians and two Americans were burned to death last Thursday. Many Italians had been already reported dead near that point. The Austrians were undertaking to backfire, but they were killed by the fire they themselves lighted. It flew back against them and drove them against a line of flame advancing from the opposite direction.

Warden Simons has telegraphed to the navy and war departments, asking that forts and war ships on Puget Sound fire all their big guns at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning in the hope that detonation will cause general rainfall over Western Washington.

Calgary Needs 5 New Schools

That five new schools must be erected within the next twelve months was the conclusion which the Calgary school board came to Thursday at their August meeting in the Haultain school, at which it was seen that everything was prepared for the fall term and provision made for prospective students.

Red Deer School District No. 104.

Circular for the Term 1910-11

(Published by the Order of the School Board.)

Previous Records of the High School

During the years in which High School work has been taken up in the School, it has had a record of passes in the Departmental Examinations that has been practically unbroken in the Province. Previously the work had been confined to 2nd and 3rd class studies, but last year a 1st class was added, comprising 9 pupils, 8 of whom obtained their certificates.

The results of last term for pupils who studied for three months or longer in Red Deer are as follows:—

Standard VIII. 9 wrote 8 passed 80%
" VII. 10 " 15 " 70%
" VI. 21 " 15 " 71%

These figures do not include several successful matriculation students, special attention to whom is a specialty of the Staff.

In July, 1910, Red Deer sent up the highest number of candidates in the Province, excluding Edmonton and Calgary.

The above figures were obtained when the High School had only two teachers; now another graduate has been added to the Staff, and more careful attention can be given to the work.

Advantages to Students

The Red Deer High School presents exceptional advantages to students whose homes are in other districts. Last term about 12 outside pupils studied in Red Deer, and not only were they nearly all successful, but they were well pleased with the School and the Town. The School Board extends a hearty welcome to all such, and no tuition fee is asked. Excellent board and lodging may be had at from $4 per week, and up; while many pupils are able to pay for their board by doing light work. The School Board and Teaching Staff will gladly supply information regarding boarding places.

The Town of Red Deer also offers many advantages to students. As a residential centre its natural beauty has attracted widespread attention, while its splendid water and sewer systems render it particularly free from sickness. An atmosphere of study pervades the place, and counter attractions, such as are found in larger cities, are absent. The School Board provides a course of free University Extension Lectures each winter, and everything is done by the Board and Council to create a healthy moral and intellectual tone in the community.

As a further proof that Red Deer is specially adapted to be an Educational Centre, the Department of Education has placed upon it as the experimental ground for the concentration system, which is likely to be in vogue this term. It has also been definitely decided that the Presbyterian Ladies' College will be located there.

The Buildings, Grounds, Etc.

The main building is a very fine modern one, heated by steam, lighted with electricity, and contains the latest ideas in sanitation and ventilation, affording the most comfortable and cheerful surroundings for the students; and, in order to meet the ever increasing demands for space, the old building has been thoroughly renovated, and a new heating system installed.

The School is located in one of the pleasantest parts of the Town, and the grounds, which are ample, are being levelled, and will be tastefully laid out in lawns, flowers and trees.

Ample space will be reserved for sports, which are one of the features of the High School; baseball, football, basketball and hockey are played in season under the supervision of the Staff, and during the winter a debating society and news sheet are conducted by the High School pupils. The High School Football Club is the Champion of Northern Alberta, holding as it does, the Rutherford Cup; while in the other sports the School more than holds its own with the surrounding schools. The Board heartily encourages sports, as it recognizes fully the truth of the old maxim,

"Mens sana in corpore sano."

The Staff

The Staff has been chosen with the utmost care, it being recognized that the ultimate success of the School rests on it. As an evidence of the Staff's qualifications, the Board has been fortunate in obtaining the services of four University Graduates, three of whom give their entire time to High School work. The rest of the Staff has been very carefully selected, and their results amply justify their being chosen.

The Public School Department

This prospectus deals primarily with the High School, but the Public School Department must not be lost sight of. Red Deer has one of the best Public Schools in the Province, and its records for tuition, attendance and passes into the High School are excellent. In the Public School Leaving Examination last year, 193% of the pupils who wrote from Red Deer, passed.

Well Known Actress.

Joan Sawyer, a clever, handsome actress, has this to say of Parisian Sage:

"To whom it may concern: Have tried most every hair tonic available, and at last Parisian Sage was recommended to me, and as I was in need of it to my satisfaction. My hair has stopped falling, dandruff stopped, and my hair has grown in the last seven months. It is the best and only sure cure for thin and short hair I know."—Joan Sawyer, 50 East 94th St., New York City.

Parisian Sage is the scientific hair restorer that has created such a sensation since its introduction into America about two years ago. It is such a quick-acting prescription that every agent who sells it will guarantee it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair, and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

It is the most delightful hair dressing in the world, and is highly praised by society women and actresses who have luxuriant and glorious hair. It will turn harsh, lustreless hair into soft, silky and luxuriant hair in a few days. Do not confound Parisian Sage with other preparations of similar name. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package.

The Gazette-Express, Drug & Book Co. are agents for Parisian Sage in Red Deer, and they sell it for 50 cents a large bottle. Mail orders filled at same price, charges prepaid, by the Canadian mailers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Port Erie, Ont.

Town Council

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Thursday evening last.

Before proceeding to business, the Mayor welcomed the new Councillor, R. P. Alford, who took his seat for the first time, and extended to him the right hand of fellowship.

There were in attendance Councillors Tallman, Carscallen, Gaetz and Welliver, besides Councillor Alford.

CORRESPONDENCE.

H. G. Stone asked for a tie post in front of his place of business. The mayor could not see how we could break the rules by allowing a tie post. He thought ring would do. He wanted the opinion of the Council.

The Council agreed to allow a ring.

The town clerk reported the vote on park by-law, and return of R. P. Alford as councillor by acclamation.

The town site people wrote they were willing to wait for payment of new park until debentures were sold.

Mr. Neville's legal adviser, Edmonton, wrote asking if Council were willing to have his client's claim settled by arbitration. Dealt with by commissioners in their report.

The Railway Commission notified the Council that the commissioners would hold a session in Edmonton Sept. 19th, and asked the town to be represented at this meeting to discuss the spur into town for freight and passengers.

Engineer Miles, of Wetaskiwin, wrote advising that Mr. Taylor would be willing to superintend the installing of new pump. The commissioners answered this would be satisfactory. Mr. Miles also advised the removal of the condenser and that it be stored away for future use.

The Canadian West Advertising Bureau laid a scheme for advertising before the Council. Filed.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

The commissioners brought in the following report:

Mayor McKee and Mr. Michener, M. P. P., returned from Ottawa, where they appeared before the Department of Railways in connection with the approval of the route map of the C.N.R. near Red Deer. They interviewed Mr. McLeod, the general manager at Winnipeg, on the way back, and we believe that we will have the C.N.R. line run as close to Red Deer as possible, with a spur into town, that will eventually form part of the line to Calgary. When the matter of the approval of the line west from the present terminus comes up, we will take all steps to protect the interests of Red Deer.

Mr. Corey, solicitor for the town of Gleichen, spent a day in town looking over our system, and getting information re by-laws, etc. We had also representatives from Castor, Stettler and Ponoka in the office getting information.

We recommend that you appoint at this meeting your delegates to the convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities to be held in Wetaskiwin, Sept. 6th and 7th.

The sidewalk contractors have been delayed in getting cement, but now have enough on hand to finish the walks. We are taking steps to have Ross St. and Gaetz Ave. gravelled and brought to grade so that the streets will be drained into the catch basins.

We are also having the catch basins built at the ends of the walk where required.

As the bond market is improving, we have called for tenders for the $22,000 debentures we have for sale, up to noon of Oct. 1st.

We have placed ads. with the Monetary Times and the Financial Post, and have sent to the buyers full particulars of the issue and the information of the financial standing of the town.

We are having the old sidewalks from Ross St. and Gaetz Ave. taken apart, and are utilizing the good planks to build sidewalks around town where most needed. We purpose building a four foot walk from the hospital to the top of the hill, and completing the gravel walk along the side of the hill.

As the Town Solicitors have reported that Mr. Neville has been paid in full for his services last year, we recommend that no action be taken on the letter from his solicitor.

We recommend that no action be taken this year on the letter of the Canadian West Bureau re. advertising. This company is composed of Americans and so far as we know have no endorsement from the Govt. While the idea is alright, it will be well to wait and see how it is carried out.

We recommend that the Railway Commission be requested to lay over for the present the question concerning the operation of the Alberta Central Railway until such time as the company is in a position to operate their line, as it is possible the arrangements they make will be satisfactory to the town.

We have received a request from the Winnipeg Oil Co. to establish a small warehouse for storing oils on the property of the Red Deer Brick Co. As this will not affect any other property than that of the Brick Co., we recommend that permission be granted, the warehouse to remain there only during the pleasure of the Council.

In connection with the visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier we arranged with Mr. Falkner to take a photo of the arch. One copy was given to each of the newspaper men with the party, and to some of the Ministers. As out of this arch were published in some of the papers, we believe we got good value for the money spent this way.

In accordance with the recommendation of the engineer, submitted herewith, whose opinion is endorsed by Mr. Taylor, engineer for Wetaskiwin, and Mr. Albert, representing the company from whom we purchased the Snow pump, we recommend that the condenser be disconnected, oiled and cleaned and stored away for future use.

We submit herewith report of Mr. Miles on the water main to the proposed college grounds. The estimated cost of an 8 in. cast iron main is $5,900, of an 8 in. wooden main $4,033, and of an 8 in. main to the centre of the quarter section and 6 in. from their to the college grounds with cast iron pipe $4,880. As this will be in the future a distributing main, we recommend that the latter plan be adopted. The annual payment on a $5,000 debenture at 5 per cent. for 30 years will be $325.26. On a $6,000 debenture $390.31.

We submit herewith list of receipts and disbursements for July.

We submit herewith for your authorization accounts certified correct.

We submit for third reading by-law No. 244.

The report was adopted.

On motion of Councillors Carscallen and Alford, Councillors Welliver, Tallman, Galbraith, Gaetz, Commissioner Stephen, E. Michener, M. P. P., and Solicitor G. W. Greene were appointed delegates to the Union of Alberta Municipalities, held at Wetaskiwin on September 6th and 7th.

The Park By-law No. 244 was read a third time and finally passed.

Councillor Carscallen said Stephen Wilson complained that the sewer needed flushing near the Windsor.

The commissioner said if any complaint was lodged in the town office it would be attended to promptly.

Councillor Tallman said the sewers should be flushed occasionally as sediment gathered in the pipes. He instanced a pipe in front of Bawlinheimer & Sons' shop.

The commissioner said that was the case, but most of the inspections made showed the pipes particularly free from sediment. However, he had no objection to flooding the sewers, as it was done occasionally.

Councillor Gaetz said when a hydrant is changed the water will be riled for a time. He remembered using water when a hydrant was being fixed and it came out black, but he let it run for a few moments and the water came clear as could be. Mr. Wilson met with a like occurrence and instead of letting it run off, bottled some of it up and showed it as Red Deer water.

The mayor said Mr. Wilson spoke to him on the street, and he asked him to go to the town office if he had a complaint to make and the matter would be attended to.

Councillor Gaetz congratulated Councillor Alford on his elevation to a seat on the Council Board, and hoped he would be a tower of strength for good in the deliberations of town affairs.

Councillor Alford made a neat little speech in reply, stating he would do all in his power to forward the interests of ratepayers and the town, and he was pleased at the kindly reception tendered him by His Worship the Mayor, Councillor Gaetz, and the other members of the Council.

The Council then adjourned at 10 o'clock.

The BLACK BAG

The train was pulling slowly into the station when he reluctantly abandoned his latest unfeasible scheme for shaking off the little Englishman and concluded that their salvation was only to be worked out through everlasting vigilance, incessant movement and the favor of the blind goddess Fortune.

He saw nothing of Hobbs as they alighted and hastened from the station and hardly had time to waste looking for him since their train had failed to make up its previous ten minutes. Consequently he dismissed the fellow from his thoughts until with Brussels lingering in their memories a girlish vision of brilliant smiles and glowing cheeks, glimpsed furtively from their cab windows during its wild dash over the broad midday boulevard at midnight, they lost themselves in a carriage of the Bruges express. They were speeding along through the open country with a noisy clatter, then a minute's lull in the vibration sufficed to discover the mate of the Althea serenely ensconced in the coach behind.

The little man seemed rarely complacent and unappetizingly gazed at Kirkwood's scowling visage as the latter peered through the window in the coach door, with a gasp and a wishy washy wave of his hand. The American by main strength of will power mastered an impulse to enter and wring his neck and returned to the girl more disturbed than he cared to let her know.

There resulted from his review of the case but one plan for outwitting Mr. Hobbs, and that lay in trusting to his confidence that Kirkwood and Dorothy Calendar would proceed as far forward as the train would carry them—namely, to the limit of the run, Bruges.

Thus inspired, Kirkwood took counsel with the girl and when the train paused at Ghent they made an unhesitating exit from their coach, dining themselves when the express had rolled on to the east upon a side platform in a foreign city at nine minutes past 1 o'clock in the morning, but at length without their shadow. Mr. Hobbs had gone on in Bruges.

Kirkwood sped his journeyings with an unspoken malediction and collected himself to cope with a situation which was to prove hardly more happy for them than the espionage they had just eluded. The primal flush of triumph which had saturated the American's humor on the morning of his escape, but active and transitory when the inquiry of the station attendants yielded the information that the two earliest trains to be obtained were the 5:30 to Dunkerque and the 5:37 for Ostend. A minimum delay of four hours was to be endured in the face of many contingent features singularly calculated to contemplate. The station waiting room was on the point of closing for the night, and Kirkwood, alarmed by the rapid ebb of the evening, had taken from Calendar, dared not subject his finances to the strain of a night's lodging at one of the hotels.

He could himself force the girl to be kind to the girl, and Dorothy's cheerful acquiescence to their sole alternative of tramping the street until day break did nothing to alleviate Kirkwood's exasperation.

It was permitted them to occupy a bench outside the station. There the girl, her head pillowed on the treasure bag, napped uneasily, while Kirkwood dozed restlessly to and fro, up and down the platform, adding his poor, weary wits with the problem of the future—not so much his own as the future of the unhappy child for whose welfare he had assumed responsibility. Dark for both of them, his understanding tomorrow loomed darkest for her.

Not until the gray, formless light of the dawn dusk was wavering over the land did he cease his perambulations. Then a gradual stir of life in the city streets, together with the appearance of a station porter or two, opening the waiting rooms and preparing them against the traffic of the day, warned him that he must rouse his charge. He paused and stood over her, reluctant to disturb her rest, such as it was, his heart torn with compassion for her, his soul lacerated by the cruel irony of their estate.

If what he understood were true, a king's ransom was secreted within the cheap imitation leather bag which served her for a pillow. But it availed her nothing for her comfort. If what he believed were true, she was absolute mistress of that treasure of jewels, yet that night she had been forced to sleep on a hard, uncushioned bench in the open air, and this morning he must wake her to the life of a homeless child. A week ago she had had at her command every luxury known to the civilized world; today she was friendless but for his inefficient, weary self and in a strange land. A week ago, he had known her then, he had been free to tell her of his love, to offer her the protection of his name as well as his devotion; today he was an all but penniless vagabond and there could be no dishonor deeper than to let her know the nature of his girl's desire.

Was ever lover seduced from a declaration to his mistress by circumstances so hateful, so unendurable? He could have raged and railed against his fate like any madman, for he desired her greatly, and she was very lovely in his sight. She was to him all created things the most wonderful, the most desirable.

The temptation of his longing seemed more than he could long withstand. But resist he must or part forever with any title to her consideration—or his. He shut his teeth and held tight his brow in a transport of desire to touch, if only with his finger tips, the woven wonder of her hair. And thus she saw him when, without warning, she awoke. Bewildered and dazed, informed the wide brown eyes, then, as their drowsiness vanished, a little laughter, a little tender mirth.

"Good morning, Sir Knight of the Somber Countenance!" she cried, standing up. "Am I so utterly disreputable that you find it necessary to grope on such a level?"

He shook his head, smiling. "I know I'm a fright," she asserted, vigorously shaking out the folds of her plaited skirt. "And, as for my hat, it will never be on a straight; but, then, you wouldn't know."

"It seems all right," he replied vacantly. "Then please to try to look a little happier since you find me quite pre-sentable."

"I do." Without lifting her bearded head she looked up, laughing, not ill pleased. "You'd better believe I'm not a fright."

Far down the railway tracks there rose a murmuring that waxed to a rumbling roar. A passing porter answered Kirkwood's inquiry, it was the night boat train from Ostend. He picked up their bags and drew the girl into the waiting room, troubled by a clicking whistle from the station.

Through the window they watched the train roll in and stop. Among others alighted, smiling, the two Englishmen, the girl and the man. He lifted his hat and bowed jauntily to the waiting room window, making it plain that his keen eyes had discovered them instantly.

CHAPTER XXVI. KIRKWOOD'S heart waned with the hopelessness of it all. If the railway directors of Bruges conspired against them, what chance had they? If the night boat train from Ostend had only the decency to wait twenty-five minutes late, instead of arriving promptly on the minute of 4:45, they two might have escaped by the 5:00 for Dunkerque and Calais.

"Miss Calendar," said Kirkwood to his friend, "just as soon as I get you home safe and sound I am going to take a long holiday. I'll be in the villa and stay his night. In the meantime I forgot to dine last night and am reminded that we had better postpone breakfast."

His dug dug them at a safe distance while they sallied forth and in a neighboring street discovered an early bird hawk, then a minute's lull in the vibration sufficed to discover the mate of the Althea serenely ensconced in the coach behind.

The little man seemed rarely complacent and unappetizingly gazed at Kirkwood's scowling visage as the latter peered through the window in the coach door, with a gasp and a wishy washy wave of his hand. jala. Presuming that Hobbs had been accurate enough to guess their plans and advise his employer by telegraph, the latter could readily have anticipated their arrival whether by sea in the brigantine or by land, taking the direct route via Brussels and Lille. If such proved to be the case, the Englishman, so to count upon the arch adventurer contenting himself with a waiting role like Hobbs.

"Good morning, Sir Knight of the Somber Countenance!" she cried, standing up. "Am I so utterly disreputable that you find it necessary to grope on such a level?"

He shook his head, smiling. "I know I'm a fright," she asserted, vigorously shaking out the folds of her plaited skirt. "And, as for my hat, it will never be on a straight; but, then, you wouldn't know."

"That is ain't a foot that's raised." "So you think a change of scene would improve your husband's disposition?" "I don't know," replied the patient wife. "I think we will locate elsewhere."

LIVE STOCK EXHIBITIONS To the man who raises live stock, the lover of live stock, it should be an inspiration to know that the magnificent horses, cattle, sheep and swine exhibited at our various Fairs enter this Western country during the past month. Each year we see new breeders entering the field. Each year the old timers find it harder and harder to take home a bunch of ribbons. And to a man who has once been a big winner of ribbons, it's tough sliding to see the novice break into the winning ranks.

And let me tell you another thing, the novice who does break into the winning camp has a good right to swell up like a pouter pigeon and strut about just a little anyway. A few years back show herds from Ontario would be sent West to "clean 'em up" each year, and they did too to a large extent. But this year their Napoleon found their Waterloo, and instead of making the annual "clean up" they found they must dig down in their jeans to help pay the way back home, for the case prizes went to the Ontario boys. It was a case of classes which contained Eastern entries.

The beauty of the whole proposition is that the west breeder is a waking up to the fact that if he might win the money prize, there would be no prize in the entries each year, and the winning of the novices is given the money prize. It is a case of encouragement that is needed in industry.

Talking with many of the breeders, they advise that it was on account of "the boy" that they took an interest in the show. It was because "the boy" worked to shape up a few animals, because he showed an interest in the show, and because of the old timer, that the fathers put the scheme of approval to the scheme rather than to the boys.

That is the proper spirit, and if more boys would show that "I'm going to be a breeder," and if more proud dads to say, "I'm with you son."

"Poor John! He was a kind and forbearing husband!" sobbed John's widow on her return from the funeral. "Yes," said a sympathizing neighbor, "but it's for the best. You must try to comfort yourself my dear, with the thought that your husband is at peace at last."

THE WEST IS MUTINOUS.

Federal Premier Finds That it Does Not Bow Down and Worship Him.

All accounts bear out the impression that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reception in the West has been of a character to arouse in him lively apprehensions as to the future. It is not likely that the Premier cares very much about the actual exposure of his trickery on the tariff issue; he is a hardened sinner in the matter of promising anything to anybody and everything to everybody, and a little matter like being caught has ceased to embarrass him. What really matters is the fact that the electorate has ceased to treat him respectfully; that it has broken loose from control. For a good many years Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been treated with positive adulation. His political opponents have treated him with a politeness which the Liberals never showed to Sir John Macdonald; his followers bowed to the earth before him. When he undertook the Western tour the most careful preparations were made to ensure him the clamorous reception to which he has grown accustomed. But the plans went wrong. The West, particularly the Western Liberals, refused to treat him with veneration and instead met him with a blunt charge of having betrayed his party's policy. Time and again he was informed in plain English and in the straightest way that he has broken his promises.

He was openly told that Westerners did not believe his promises about the Hudson Bay Railway because they had seen so many of his promises broken. The platform of 1895 was shaken under his nose by old Liberals—that was the part that hurt—and it was asked why he had failed to carry it out.

One incident is typical. Let the Neepawa Register speak: "Twelve farmers, all members of the party led by Laurier, spoke in turn, each dealing with a different topic and denouncing the Premier for betrayal of the promises upon which they had supported him and urged his return to power; they showed him where he failed in the greatest chance ever placed in the hands of a Canadian to make history that would rebound to his credit. The event was the turning point in Canadian politics in more than one respect. It indicated that not even such means as held the West for Laurier heretofore could hold it again; perhaps it indicated even more—that the day of evenly-mouthed kow-towing to power unscrupulously obtained is past."

It all means that the West has turned against Laurier.

Barnes' Big Three-Ring Circus is Coming.

Barnes' circus is one of the biggest shows in the country and travels on its own special train of double length cars. Nearly three hundred persons are employed by the show, and there are over two hundred wild animals that take part in the performances, which last for two hours, and is presented in three rings and an immense steel arena, three acts going on at the same time. This show must not be confounded with any small dog and pony shows that visited this locality. Barnes' trained animal circus is billed to appear here Monday, September 5th, and is engaged at all the big fairs in Canada to be the principal feature.

Special features to be presented will be Barnes' twenty thousand dollar group of Arabian stallions.

A fully grown African lion that rears a horse, which dashes at full speed across the arena directed by Milly Barnes.

Seals and sea-lions that play musical instruments, ride horses and engage in a game of baseball.

Fearless trainers enter arenas filled with ferocious lions, tigers, leopards and panthers, and cause them to do tricks apparently beyond the limit of brute intelligence.

Morrow's wonderfully trained ponies, dogs and monkeys are alone worth the price of admission.

Captain Stonewall's sea-lions were the sensational feature at all the big fairs this season and are the only show ever presenting this feature.

Aside from the animal exhibition will be a number of high class attractions.

A military band of thirty pieces render a concert twice daily.

Don't forget that this is the only big show touring Canada this year, and will positively exhibit, rain or shine, at Red Deer, on Monday, September 5th.

Death Roll Will Reach Up to the 200 Mark.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 24.—Forest fires have slain more than two hundred persons, nearly all of them fighters in Idaho, according to figures compiled tonight from latest reports.

Superintendent Weigle of the Coeur d'Alene national forest, after receiving many reports of disasters to women and children, six hundred employees, posted a bulletin tonight in his office at Wallace announcing the death of 114 of the men. He also expressed grave concern for the safety of Ranger Joseph B. Palm and 74 men, who were surrounded by fire on Saturday night in the forest on the big fork of the Coeur d'Alene river, near where another party lost 18 men. Palm was for four days in the forest, and baseball player of the Washington State college at Pullman.

The charred bodies of 20 fire fighters were found yesterday on a steep crest in the Selkirk country. Two severely scorched Japanese dragged themselves to Avery, Idaho, last night and told of the death of ten of their companions. The 12 men, employees of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound road, had gone to fight fires. They were surrounded by flames, and only two men escaped.

The number of deaths in Washington was today reported to be three, all in the Pen d'Oreille valley, near Newport. One of these victims, Mrs. Ernest Deinhart, wife of a rancher, is the only woman known to have been burned to death in any of the fires. The names of many of the dead will never be known.

As the wake of a ship looks to be a zigzag line of many tacks which, united, make a straight line, so the retribution of Syria Greenbury was wrought by self-evolving circles. The first infinitesimal ring was the acquisition of a sailor by Molly Greenbury, and all the unwritten laws of courtship yielded to the lovers the exclusive of the front porch.

The only member of the Greenbury household actually discommoded by this arrangement was Syria herself. His worthy spouse clung to the inside of the house day and night.

"Just as I've set back as front," philosophically remarked Syria as he betook himself to the back porch. "He grumbled, however, over his limited space. The back porch was a re-

GUGLIELMO MARCONI
The Father of Wireless Telegraphy

This is the age of the elimination of the essentials. We have horseless carriages, trackless trolleys, wireless printing, loveless marriages, grapeless vines, clocks without hands, apples without seeds, and, greatest of all, telegrams without wires. Marconi, who succeeded in performing this miracle of science which has been the dream of electrical experimenters since 1746, is a young Italian, born at Bologna and not yet thirty years old. His father is an Italian landed proprietor and his mother is the daughter of James Jamieson, the famous Irish whiskey distiller.

At eight years of age, Guglielmo showed the first faint buds of promise of inventive genius; at twelve his tutor attempted to rob him of one of his devices; at sixteen he was absorbed in chemical, electrical and mathematical problems; and at twenty he was almost tiring the faith and love of his mother with the seemingly insane proposition of attempting to telegraph without wires, through hills and forests, across streams and over fields.

When he was twenty-one he went to England and somehow managed to interest Sir William Preece, engineer of the British telegraph system, sufficiently to secure his co-operation. When Marconi succeeded in sending a message two miles—a success sufficient to irritate him by the golden visions of greater distances yet to master—he was like Moses viewing the Promised Land which seemed impossible for him to enter. It seemed hopeless to persist further and he was discouraged almost to despair, but stuck loyally to the problem until the high-water mark of conquered distance rose to one hundred and twenty-five miles.

On December 13, 1901, the scientific world was astounded by the news that Marconi had succeeded in talking to England from Newfoundland across 2,000 miles of air and water. There was a smile of compassionate tolerance for the inventor who imagined he had done this, the smile of one who does not wish to arouse another from the empty happiness of a pleasant dream. But soon it was science that awoke to the realization of the marvel, and the fresh morning newspaper printed from news carried to the vessel by "marconigrams" and served with the fresh rolls on the breakfast table in mid-ocean, proved again the wonder that grows greater as its field broadens and develops. Marconi was the first to send a recorded message through space by electromagnetic waves (in 1894); the first to telegraph from a moving ship (in 1897), and the first to speed a wireless message across the Atlantic.

Your Child's Intellect Is Fed Largely Through The Eyes.

Defective eyes stunt the mind. You cannot expect fair progress in school or in business in after life if your child is so handicapped. Many naturally bright children are thought to be stupid and dull, simply because their vision is defective. If I give special attention to any one branch of my business it is to the difficult task of correctly fitting glasses for children.

A Railway Delegation.

A delegation from east Olds waited upon Premier Sifton on Monday to discuss railway matters. The delegation consisted of W. L. Fischer, Fred Haderer, J. W. Francis, R. Wynn, Jas. Steadman, J. H. Cameron, T. Wilkin, W. C. Chalmers, and Fred Boettger, and were accompanied by J. E. Stauffer, M. P. P. They were introduced to the Premier by Hon. Dupon Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, who also supported their request.

They asked that the provincial government would guarantee the bonds of a line of the C. N. R. from Calgary north and east of the C. & E. through Mayton, which lies about 20 miles east of Olds.

This line is expected to form part of the new short line of the C. N. R. from Strathcona to Calgary.

The Premier assured those who waited upon him that the government would give every assistance to those breaking the land to enable them to get their crops to market. He promised every consideration to this request.

The members of the delegation expressed themselves as well pleased with the business-like manner in which they were received and the way the matter they had in hand was discussed by Premier Sifton.

The New C.P.R. Station.

The handsome new station erected by the C.P.R. will be completed this week. A traveller stated the other day that not only was it the finest station building between Calgary and Edmonton, but there was only one station to equal it between Calgary and Winnipeg.

The building is of, somewhat new and more attractive design, and contains improvements and architectural features which are not found on any station of similar size on the road. The design is the work of Mr. Crossley, of the C.P.R. construction department, Winnipeg. The building is 126 x 36, with 14 foot ceiling, having a basement 30 x 36 for the steam heating apparatus, and an upper story 30 x 36 for offices—the latter is left unfinished at present. The roof slopes in the four directions, overhanging verandah roofs carrying it ten feet past the wall lines. The roof centre is broken on the yard side by three dormers, and on the town side by a central octagonal tower flanked on each side by dormer windows. At either end are the express and baggage rooms, one 20 x 36, the other 15 x 36. These have entrances from both sides, and their floors are level with the main platform, which will be some 36 x 600 built on the main line standard, 10 inches above the rail. The general waiting room stretches on the east or town side some 68 x 20 feet, with two wide entrance corridors to the platform. Of the general waiting room to the south is the men's smoking room, and the men's lavatories, with two closets and urinals. Off the general waiting room to the north are the ladies' retiring room and the ladies' lavatories, with three closets. The ticket office has an octagonal window on the station platform, and the rear octagonal wall has three ticket windows into the general waiting room. The building is floored throughout with maple and is finished in fir. The base line, wainscoting rail, and picture rail relieve the putty finish plaster upper walls, and the sand finish plaster ceiling. The wainscoting is of painted birch. Mr. Hardy was much pleased with the plastering work of Mr. Welton, of Red Deer, the subcontractor for plastering. The building is beautifully lighted, the general waiting room having a fine octagonal bay window looking out on the town side. The regular windows are hung for open sashes.

The station was built in fourteen weeks, and Mr. Hardy, the efficient and popular foreman who has carried out the work on behalf of McDiarmid & Co., Winnipeg, the contractors, counts himself six weeks within the limit.

The old station will be moved 40 feet south of the new building, and will be used as a freight shed.
